There are only four English Electric Lightning jets remaining and we have them. Two are training aircraft with side by side seats. These supersonic interceptors are powered by two Rolls Royce Avon 302 turbojets and this means serious power.

We can offer you the opportunity to spend half a day with us, get basic training and go on the ride of your life in an aircraft that that holds a lift world records; for instance for climb-to-altitude. Fly in an aircraft with the speed capabilities of up to Mach 2.2 (2400 kmph). Come and realise a dream of a lifetime and experience for yourself what it feels like to soar at speeds few people ever understand and walk away with memories of a lifetime.

A full morning's briefing will cover your training; this will cover survival training, oxygen management and ejection seat training (this includes your kit and other areas of equipment).

WE ARE SORRY! THIS JET IS CURRENTLY UNAVAILABLE, PERHAPS YOU'D LIKE TO TRY ONE OF OUR

- The opportunity of spending half a day at our facility in Cape Town situated at the Cape Town International Airport.
- Survival training
- Oxygen management
- Fuel ejector seat training that includes your kit as well as other areas of equipment
- Full jet flight briefing
- A jet flight in an ex-military fighter over the skies of Cape Town, South Africa of between 30 and 40 minutes (depending on fuel).
- We provide you with a flight suit
- Certification.

Where is it?

All training and departures of jet flights take place at your international facility that is located at the Cape Town International Airport.

When is the best time to do it?

This jet flight adventure is available all year round, but take note that in general the wettest months in Cape Town is from May to August. This means that the weather and especially low cloud formation can prevent us from taking off. So if you are able to wait for ideal flying conditions, you will have superb flying conditions.

What do we need to bring?

We provide you with absolutely everything; you can even get a video of your unique day at an optional extra cost. Thus, you only have to bring your camera with you.

Adventure bookings will provide you with an exciting jet flight that you will never forget. Contact us for further details.
