Canopy adventures are an alternative eco-friendly way to experience nature and the Mpumalanga aerial cable trail is the longest canopy adventure in Africa. There are 10 different platforms that are connected with steel cables and you move from platform to platform gliding along the cables.

The Mpumalanga aerial cable trail is 1.2 km long and has been designed and built to exacting South African civil engineering standards to ensure that all guests are safe at all times.

We do open-date gift vouchers that you can hand to the recipients as gifts on a special day. This allows the recipient the flexibility to make the final booking on a date that suits his/her personal schedule. This also turns the gift into a “double whammy” gift as the recipient receives the voucher on the special day and then has the anticipation of going on the adventure on a suitable date.

Our open date vouchers are valid for a period of 6 months from date of issue; this is a precaution to guard against price increases only, the value of the voucher is never lost. Should the participant not use the voucher within that time period, the value is still there, and if there has been no price increases, the recipient uses the voucher as is. If after the six months grace period there has been a price increase, the recipient will be liable to pay in the price difference only.
