Aquila Private Game Reserve is a 4-star facility that offers a great many different services, facilities and experiences to visitors. It is a game reserve with a difference in that they offer visitors an educational wildlife experience as their goal from the start has been to re-introduce wildlife into the Cape region, conservation and educating people.

Their conservation and environmental balancing projects have been so successful that they are today able to offer visitors a Big 5 safari experience and in this case also a quad biking safari adventure.

Quad bikes are the greatest fun ever for people of all ages and as an outdoors activity quad biking is incredibly popular in South Africa. Riding quad bikes give you the opportunity to be more active than if you go sightseeing or game watching in a vehicle driven by a driver.

So if you want to combine the adventure of driving quad bikes over all types of terrain with the having a Big 5 game viewing trip you can have it both at Aquila Private Game Reserve. You can combine your quad biking adventure with a stay at the Game Reserve or you can come for a quad bike safari as a day visitor to the Game Reserve.
